ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF HISTORY

The History Department of Tennessee Wesleyan University in Athens, Tennessee invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor.

Requirements for the position include a terminal degree in history or a related field. The successful candidate will have the demonstrated ability to teach in the area of European history with a strong secondary concentration in a non-Western area preferred.

Review of candidates will begin on March 4 and continue until position is filled. Interested individuals should submit a cover letter including research interests, curriculum vitae, a one-page summary of teaching philosophy, three letters of recommendation that can address the candidate’s ability or potential to educate, and unofficial copies of transcripts to: kfulbright@tnwesleyan.edu

Kyle Fulbright, Director of Human Resources
Tennessee Wesleyan University
204 East College Street
Athens, TN 37303

Tennessee Wesleyan University seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce that celebrates the all-encompassing diversity of its student body. TWU is committed to sustaining a welcoming and inclusive environment for the campus community that includes a workforce with a wide range of perspectives and experiences. TWU faculty and staff have a passion and desire to prepare students from a broad spectrum of disciplines, cultures and academic backgrounds towards personal and professional success. TWU encourages applications from candidates without regard to ethnicity, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, or gender identity.